1. One section of the contemplated Sztalinváros-Rétszilás railroad line, from Sztalinváros to Sztalin Vasmű (Stalin Iron Works), has been opened to regular traffic and the 17 km. section from Sztalin Vasmű to Nagykarácsony is nearing completion. The remaining 16 km. section from Nagykarácsony to Rétszilás is still to be built. Construction work on the Sztalin Vasmű-Nagykarácsony section was started at the beginning of March 1952 and went ahead at an average rate of 1 km. per week. The remaining section to Rétszilás will, it is estimated, only progress at the rate of 600 meters per week, but it should be completed during the first quarter of 1953.
2. "Delta" lines: One such line running from Sztalinváros Külső to the harbor on the Dunapentele Peninsula, has already been completed. Lines are laid along the loading jetties, so that freight can be transferred direct from ship to train.. Another "Delta" line has been scheduled to connect the new line to Dunaföldvár.
